Implementing a New Perspective on Information

Align your business applications with your overall strategies

Ensure that your performance management, business intelligence and ERP solutions complement one another to make you more efficient, agile, competitive and profitable

To be successful today, emerging and enterprise businesses are taking a proactive and long-term approach to their business applications, operational processes and technologies. Technology solutions can be overwhelming. nexDimension can help to define your requirements, present alternatives, provide strategic direction, and implement the right technologies to keep you on track.

When you partner with nexDimension, you are partnering with a trusted business advisor. We pride ourselves on knowing our clients and our extensive knowledge of the software we recommend and implement. Our staff includes financial, business and technology experts, including CPAs, former CFOs and controllers, computer specialists, software developers, and implementation consultants. Every member of the nexDimension team is dedicated to providing the depth and quality of service to meet your needs.

DEFINE YOUR REQUIREMENTS

We begin by examining all aspects of your business—from identifying corporate challenges and analyzing business processes to assessing how you make use of current technology. We get a better appreciation of your business by understanding its workflow, data and transaction cycles. We then define the underlying technologies necessary to support your future plans enabling you to make the best decisions regarding applications.

PRESENT OPTIONS

Next, we evaluate specific business applications, define and offer solution options, and provide strategic direction. These Microsoft-centric technologies could replace an existing system or be deployed in conjunction with existing systems. No matter what you decide, you don't need to do it all at once. Each solution can be implemented individually, or in either parallel or sequential phases. We focus on applications that use your existing and future data to maximize your organization's competitive advantage. At nexDimension, we guide you into the future while preserving your past.

IMPLEMENTATION AND DEPLOYMENT SERVICES

Once the technology and application decisions have been made, nexDimension manages the implementation of applications to ensure the predefined business objectives are met. nexDimension's services include:

Project Management

Establishing clear direction and ensuring quality outcomes requires project management leadership. nexDimension provides the knowledge, skills, tools and techniques in a broad range of activities to meet the requirements of a particular project. nexDimension's project management expertise focuses on the communication, coordination and supervision of resources that are involved in an implementation, including initiating, planning, executing, monitoring and controlling processes.

Application and Data Integration

nexDimension has the technical expertise to design, create and maintain links between multiple systems and data sources in multiple databases, ultimately providing users with a unified view of their data.

Data Conversion and Migration

nexDimension assists organizations in devising a cost-effective data conversion plan as well as converting data from source systems when companies change or upgrade to new systems.

Training

nexDimension offers training programs tailored to our clients' specific needs to transfer knowledge at two different levels—end-user applications and system management and administration.

Go-Live Support

The very first day of using a new system is when users' knowledge is put to the test. nexDimension provides the safety-net of experience by being on-site at this critical time to provide direct assistance and assurance to new users.

Business Intelligence Capabilities

The promise of business intelligence revolves around providing employees with the right information at the right time to accomplish a specific goal. This need to keep informed isn't limited to one or two departments within your organization. nexDimension delivers access to critical, time-sensitive information to everyone in your organization via:

- Custom Reports

   Reports are the primary vehicles for transforming valuable enterprise data into Business Intelligence for the vast majority of users. They are the best way for C-level executives, business managers and knowledge workers to stay on top of day-to-day operations. They range from fixed format reports to sophisticated ad-hoc queries and analysis.

- Dashboards and Scorecards

   Critical information is placed at your fingertips without unnecessary detail. With a quick glance, users see the status of key processes, projects or activities and take action. They provide organizations with a stage on which to articulate goals, priorities and strategies, and to monitor business activity through performance metrics.

- Business Alerts

   With information overload at its peak, the need to filter information and tie it together with alerts to key stakeholders is more important now than ever before. By implementing business process management principles and practices and employing a pro-active approach, organizations improve the timeliness and quality of business decisions.

Ongoing Support

After we've assisted with an implementation, nexDimension facilitates the support process between end-user organizations and software developers. We recommend software maintenance plans, provide assistance deploying product enhancements and upgrades, and offer direct support for custom implementations and integrations.
